Commencement of 1943

Although, at the present time, the class of '44 is anticipating its own graduation, let us turn back the pages of time and recall the commencement exercises of the foregoing year.

As was the custom during the two preceding years, a Class Day was held at Hanscom Hall on Saturday afternoon, June 12, at which time the memoirs of Gould were revived. Although the time of parting was drawing nigh and sorrow was profound in many hearts, the following program was presented with the good will and spirit of the graduates.

Processional "Step Ahead"
Rosario Bourdon, Gould Orchestra

Address to Undergraduates
Robert Golderman

Violin Solo — Robert Greenleaf
"Play Fiddle", Viennese Air (Arr. Deutsch)

Class History — Ida Lee Clough

Class Will — Helen Fogg

Vocal Solo — Ilene Goodrich
"This Day Is Mine", Harriette Ware

Gifts to Girls — Clark Richmond, John Lawry

Gifts to Boys — Gladys Neuswanger, Marion Chapman

Toast to Faculty — Alice Bennett

Singing of Class Ode — Class of 1943
Written by Louisa Bacon, 1943

March, "Step Ahead"
Rosario Bourdon, Gould Orchestra

Following this pleasing form of entertainment a baseball game was played between fellow-students from Gould, which created interest for sport fans, while the band presented several selections on the athletic field.

The annual Senior Reception was the climax of that eventful day, and it alone reminds us of the gaiety customary of the class of '43.

The Baccalaureate Service was held Sunday in the Congregational Church, with the Rev. Percy Vernon, of Lewiston, giving the Commencement sermon.

On Monday the final climax of the graduation exercises took place.

While the sixty-one graduates marched single file into the gymnasium, in accordance with the rhythm of Mendelssohn's "War March of the Priests", each one realized that this was, as well as a happy morning, a sad one too, due to the fact that the changing world conditions would vitally influence each one's life.

The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the assembly, followed by the invocation by Rev. Murchie A. Gordon of Bethel.

The Salutatory address was given by Rachel Gordon, whose subject was "Freedom from Fear", and following was an orchestral selection, "In a Persian Market", by Ketelby.

"Freedom of Speech", the first honor essay, was presented by Carolyn Wight. The Boys' Glee Club rendered the selection of Soldiers' Chorus from "Faust", by Gounod.

Marion Waterhouse gave the second honor essay "Freedom of Religion", and afterwards, the members of the Girls' Glee Club sang the "Morning Song" by Massenet, and "Sing! Sing! Sing!" by Sacco.

The Valedictorian, Louisa Bacon, spoke on "Freedom from Want" and the Varsity Glee Club followed with the selections "Ride Out on Wings of Song", by Berwald, and "March on, America", by Elliot.

The remarks and awarding of honors and diplomas were then given by Headmaster Elwood F. Ireland.

Betty Warren: "Woman's at best a contradiction still."

Joe Wellington: "I have more understanding than all my teachers; for their testimonies are my meditations."

Dot West: "I had a dream which was not all a dream."

Barbara Wing: "Be merry if you are wise."

Archie Young: "Virtue indeed, is its own reward."

As for myself: "No one should be judge in his own cause."

With the Sophomores

Here we are again, the class of '46, back for another wear at G. A. As we have progressed during the last one and one-half years at Gould, our class has taken increased interest and cooperation in the school curriculum.

At our first class meeting we chose the following officers: president, Gordon Lawry; vice president, Carolyn Bryant; secretary, Barbro Freese; and we trust John Marshall with our money (if we ever get any).

We have many enthisuasts in the field of athletics. Many boys went out for football last fall. As for winter sports, our boys showed skill in both skiing and basketball.

As for the girls, we have been very active in hockey, hiking, archery, and basketball.

Now lets get acquainted!

"A wise old owl sat on an oak,
The more he heard, the less he spoke,
The less he spoke, the more he heard,
Why can't you be like that wise old bird?"

WILLIAM ANDERSON

"This year's leap year, and you bet,
Louise will get a boy friend yet."

LOUISA BACON

"There are metres in verse,
There are metres in stone,
But the best of all metres,
Is to meet her alone.

MARGARET BAKER

"Make way for the Navy
With anchors aweigh;
She loves the Navy
Of the U. S. A.

PAULINE BAKER

"Tall and lanky, full of fun,
Bean makes friends with everyone."

FRANCIS BEAN

"Shall I nestle by thy side?
Wilt thou take me out to ride?"

SADIE BEAN

"We know a girl who is jolly,
We know a pal that is true,
We know a friend that is priceless,
And that is - - Colleen that's you."

COLLEEN BENNETT

"Cloudy the day, or stormy the night,
The sky of the heart was always bright."

DANIEL BENNETT

"He appears sad 'tis true,
But really he is not so blue."

ROBERT BENNETT

"With a camera to snap and a film on hand
All the wide world is at 'Koon's' command"

MARTIN BOVEY

"And still they gazed and still the wonder grew
That one small head could carry all he knew."

GORDON BOWMAN

SOPHOMORE CLASS

"Willis Brooke with hair so red,
A good lot of mischief comes from his head."

WILLIS BROOKE

"Donald, from his slide trombone,
Can blow for us a right good tone."

DONALD BROOKS

"Not so very tall,
No so very fat,
But what is best of all,
She's a friend despite all that."

CAROLYN BRYANT

"Hearty faith, and honest cheer,
Are with our Chippy all the year."

JEAN CHIPMAN

"She's simply what's sweetest,
Completest and neatest."

BARBARA CORSON

"Oh Gee! Oh Gosh! It's great to be free,
No wedding bells shall ring for me."

LEWIS CURTIS

"She always has a smile
And a happy disposition;
We know that she'll make good,
Whatever her position."

PEARL DAYE

"Trouble, trouble, double trouble,
Her mind is always in a muddle."

SUSANNE DELATOURE

"Yes, you midget, I really must say,
You're a troublesome comfort everyday."

ERROLD DONAHUE

"Olympic skier of '44,
We wish you luck a thousand times o're."

EDMOND DORION

"It's such a joy these days to find
A chap that has no ax to grind."

EARLE DORR

"Wherever he goes, he will not hike;
He'll ride that familiar, rattling bike."

CARROLL FITZGERALD

"Mystery of mysteries, bashful and shy - -
So we thought in days gone by."

HELEN FOSTER

"Her friends there are many.
Her foes - - are there any?"

BARBRO FREESE

"His heart is light
From morn till night."

ALAN FULLER

"Nothing's important to a willing heart,
And a girl who's ready to do her part."

RUTH GARBER

"Priscilla's a girl with talent and tact,
And in her lessons, she knows each fact."

PRISCILLA GOGGIN

"John should eat spinach to make him grow;
Why he doesn't we don't know."

JOHN GREENLEAF

"Dedi is an artist rare,
She draws posters for every affair."

VIRGINIA GRIFFIN

"When there's fun she's always in it
Never still for half a minute."

VIRGINIA HASTINGS

"To those who know him best, a friend most true and hearty,
To those who know him least, a very quiet party."

WILLIAM HASTINGS

"You're a girl we're glad to claim,
A girl we all admire,
For you have always done your part,
That's all we need require."

MARJORIE HOWARD

"I can be just as good as I please,
But when I don't, I'm an awful tease."

FRANK HUNT, JR.

"Maidens should be mild and meek,
Swift to hear and slow to speak."

BEATRICE JORDAN

"The things of life I like the best,
Are lots to eat and lots of rest."

STANLEY JUDKINS

"Lawrence Kendall's highest mark,
Is hunting "wolfesses" in the dark."

LAWRENCE KENDALL

"She's little and she's wise,
She's a killer for her size!"

MARION LAPHAM

" 'A hundred percent in war stamp sales!'
Our president, Gordon, never fails."

GORDON LAWRY

"Suckie, must you giggle so much?
You know, you'll always be 'in dutch',"

SUSAN LINSLEY

"Good temper is like a sunny day.
It sheds it's brightness every way."

EILENE LITTLEHALE

"With everything else there is to do,
The mail, above all, it must go through."

LAWRENCE LITTLEHALE

"A girl with a smile
Is always worth while."

ELIZABETH LOWELL

"A man of words and not of deeds,
Is like a garden full of weeds."

JOHN MARSHALL

"Whatever you do, aim to excell,
For what's worth doing, is worth doing well."

STANLEY MERRILL

"Happy am I - - from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all contented like me?'

JEAN MURPHY

"Quiet and peaceful all his life,
Never to enter this thing called strife."

JOSEPH MURRAY

"I sat me down and thought profound,
This maxim wise I drew,
'Tis easier much to like a girl
Than make a girl like you."

LENDALL NEVENS

"Who can tell what good may spring
From such a very little thing."

ADELBERT NORWOOD

"Boys, boys, everywhere, but not one can I get.
But don't you fool yourself because, I'm bound to get one yet."

MARILYN NOYES

"When a woman will, she will,
And you can depend on it;
When she wont, she won't,
And that's the end of it."

IRENE OLSON

" 'Tis the greatest of folly
Not to be jolly."

BEVERLEY PERKINS

"Forward and frolic and glee was there,
The will to do, the soul to dare."

YVETTE RICHARDS

"A little bit quiet you may have surmised,
But when you know her - - oh, you'd be surprised."

PRISCILLA RING

"Helen is a student rare,
True and loyal, fair and square."

HELEN ROBERTSON

"A merry twinkle in his eye,
A friendly word that'll never die."

ANDREW SARGENT

"We love you for a heart that's kind,
Not for the knowledge in your mind."

MARION SILVER

"I cannot check my girlish blush,
My color comes and goes;
I redden to my finger tips,
And sometimes to my nose."

ALBERT SMITH

"A giggle, a grin,
A twinkle within
You'd just know
'Tis mischief she in!"

ELIZABETH SMITH

"Ralph's often seen at Marion True;
We wonder why. - - We wonder who."

RALPH STETSON

"A mighty man of mirth is he,
With friends as countless as fish in the sea."

DEXTER STOWELL

"If my heart's distressed, and I'm in tears,
The mist is dispelled when a woman appears."

HORACE STURGIS

"She is just a garden flower,
Growing brighter every hour."

ANN TERRIBERRY

"She's quiet and she's shy,
But there's mischief in her eye."

CLAIRE TYLER

"Quietly she goes her way,
Doing her share, with little to say."

GLORIA WAITE

"Not very tall, but witty and jolly,
She's always ready for fun and folly."

MARY WARD

"Happy-go-lucky, careless and free;
Nothing there is that troubles me."

MARIE WHITE

"A little nonsense now and then,
Is relished by the best of men."

CARL WIGHT

"Fond of beauty, life and laughter,
Business first and pleasure after."

JAY WINTER

"Love many, trust few,
Always paddle your own canoe."

SUMNER WINTER

As for me, life is a deep, dark secret.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Alumni

We were sad when the Class of '43 left Gould Academy last June. In the course of one, two, three, or four years here many of its members had become well known and well loved by their underclassmen. They had always constituted an active and important class, and our appreciation of these new alumni grew as we found it necessary to fill their shoes this year.

Though we have missed their vigorous influence about the school, we are proud of these men and women who were our schoolmates a year ago. Now they are either continuing education or helping to win the war on the home front or in the armed service of their country:

Carolyn Goudy is attending Harcom Junior College.

Carolyn Wight and Mary Jobin are studying nursing at Massachusetts General Hospital, at Boston.

Beverley Kneeland is studying Home Economics at Farmington Normal School.

David Holmes is attending the University of Maine.

Richard Jordan has entered the Army Air Corps.

Jacquelyn Leader is employed in the office of the Oxford Paper Mill, Rumford, Maine.

Geneva Lane is in training at Maine General Hospital in Portland.

Harry Melcher is in the Army Air Corps stationed at Lawry Field, Colorado.

Gladys Neuswanger is attending Mt. Holyoke College, Holyoke, Massachusetts.

Richard Parks, U. S. Navy, and Glendon McAlister, U. S. Navy, are attending Harvard.

Ellen Peabody has entered the Waves.

Barbara Poole, Betty Jane Durgin, Nora Chipman, Louisa Bacon and Margaret Spaulding are attending the University of Maine.

Elizabeth Wight is attending Gorham Normal School.

Marion Chapman is taking a Post-Graduate course at Gould Academy.

Ida Clough and Alice Bennett are studying physical education at Russell Sage.

Harriette Holmes is studying nursing at Russell Sage.

Phyllis Andrews is in training at the Burbank Hospital at Fitchburg, Massachusetts.

Norman Torrey, U. S. Navy, is serving overseas.

Barbara Wheatley is attending Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y.

Lincoln Colby, U. S. Army, is in medical training at Camp Campbell, Kentucky.

Thomas Thompson, U. S. Navy, is attending Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Constance Sawyer is attending Smith College.

Arlene Donahue is attending Bliss Business College, Lewiston, Maine.

Marion Waterhouse is in training at the C. M. G. Hospital, Lewiston, Maine.

Barbara Graves is employed as receptionist at the Presque Isle Flying Field, U.S.O.

Robert Greenleaf, U. S. Army is stationed at Camp Forrest, Tenn.

Ian Watson, U. S. Army, is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

Robert Golderman, U. S. Army, is now overseas.

Robert Townsend is in the Army Quartermaster's Corps, serving overseas.

Freeman Bartlett, U. S. Navy, is stationed at Norfolk, Virginia.

William Wright, U. S. Navy, is stationed at Morehead, Virginia.

Hastings Bartley is attending Boston University.

Albert Buck is studying at Burdett Business College, Boston, Mass.

Elizabeth Rublee is attending the University of Vermont.

John Lawry, U. S. Army Air Corps, is stationed at Scottfield, Illinois.

Ivy Philbrick is attending Nasson College at Springvale.

Norman Jacobs, U. S. Navy, is attending Bates College.

Claude Archer is at his home in Liberty, Maine.

Francis Holt is working in Bethel.

Rachel Gordon is attending Burdett Business College, Boston.

Clark Richmond, U. S. Navy, and Malcolm Brown, N. S. Navy, are attending Colgate University.
Dora Gallant is working in Bridgeport, Conn.
Thomas Thompson (N. H.) is at his home in East West Moreland, N. H.
William Bradlee is an Air Corps Cadet stationed in Tennessee.
Hugh Scarborough is working in Bethel.
Helen Fogg is employed as a secretary in the Lewiston Sun office in Lewiston, Maine.
Wilma Bean is living at her home in Bethel.
William Rutter, Army Air Corps, is at Amarilla Air Field, Amarilla, Texas.

MARRIAGES

Feb. '44 Kathryn Davis '40 to Charles Hamlin, U. S. Naval Reserves.
June '43 Violet Brooks '43 to Donald Chretien, U. S. Army.
June '43 Mary Dorion '43 to Earlon Paine.
June '43 Herbertina Norton '42 to Maurice Brooks '39.
June '43 Madelyn Byrd '40 to Kenneth Brooks '36, U. S. Army.
July '43 Elizabeth Gorman '43 to Edward Wheeler '40, U. S. Army.
June '43 Catherine Lyon '32 to Dr. Richard Bush.

ENGAGEMENTS

Virginia Davis '40 to Lt. Robert Keniston '38, U. S. Army.
Joan E. Merritt to Elwood F. Ireland, Jr., '42, U. S. Army (Medical Corps).

BIRTHS

To Muriel Brooks (Bean) '42, a son, Nov., '43.
To Mary Rice (Clough) '39, a son and daughter, May, '43.
To Janice Anderson (Lawrence) '42, a daughter, March '44.
To Jane Baker (Runyon) '38, a daughter.

A Student's Diary

SEPTEMBER 14: Parking our roller skates at the curb and clutching our encyclopedias we once again stormed the portals of Gould Academy. The curriculum had been enlarged to include Spanish and Physical Geography as well as two new teachers, Mrs. Dyer and Mr. Scott.

Mrs. Dyer launched her Gould career as a teacher of English, later admirably taking over Mr. Vachon's matchless French classes. A graduate of Bates College, she has taught at Berwick Academy and Deering High School.

Mr. Scott made himself well-known by his entertainment at the fall rallies, his capable football team and his history classes. Coach Scott claims Colby as his Alma Mater, and he has also done graduate work at the Universities of Maine and New Hampshire and at Bates, receiving a Master of Arts degree from the University of New Hampshire. His former teaching and coaching experiences are many, including positions at Norway, Bar Harbor, Exeter, and Hebron. The line "We're awfully glad you came and we hope you feel the same" is by no means a solo.

OCTOBER 13: The inside gossip and goings-on at Gould hit the headlines!—of the "Blue and Gold". With Anne Aldrich at the helm our newsy chronicle inaugurates its second year of success.

OCTOBER 15: The most hilarious occasion of the fall was the A. A's "Kid Party" which brought forth the entire school for an evening of "childish" and thoroughly successful fun. Hair ribbons, "Dr. Denton's" lollypops and sunbonnets flourished amid alphabetic decorations. A definite variety of class skits were produced in which, among other atrocities, rotten eggs (?) were showered on the audience, an A-1 builder went to work on Stub Arnold, and the evils of Dr. Lawrence's office were revealed.

OCTOBER 17: The first vacancy in our administrative department occurred when Esther Burris resigned to be succeeded by Christine Hanson.

OCTOBER 23: We of the old folks home emerged from hibernation long enough to welcome officially those "Babes in Arms", none other than the class of '47, into our midst with the annual Freshman Reception. Ronnie Chase furnished the "Sina"-tunes and the gym was a veritable aquarium with multi-colored fish and bubbles adorning the walls. Thus the saying "no more privacy than a goldfish" applied to the cheek-to-cheek dancers.

OCTOBER 25: A loss on our faculty occurred as Miss Bailey, instructor in Mathematics, resigned to accept a teaching position in Connecticut where her trout fishing has been limited to polly-wogs and eels.

NOVEMBER 5: Our popular Mr. Vachon, he of the unflagging energy left us to conquer bigger fields, namely the Axis. It is needless to mention the extent to which he was missed and the good wishes which will follow him always.

NOVEMBER 11: A thought provoking Armistice Day celebration was held in the Wm. Bingham gym under the auspices of the American Legion. Addresses by Mr. Ireland and Legion representatives, a violin solo by Shirley Read, selections by the State Guard Reserves Band and Gould Glee Clubs preceded the presentation of Gold Star citations to the parents of Bethel boys whose lives had been given for their country.

NOVEMBER 25: Turkey!

DECEMBER 16: What a hum of activity preceded this date ushering in that glorious season: vacation!

JANUARY 6: Happy New Year! Everyone is just raring to go—home from another vacation.

JANUARY 18: President Bixler of Colby College was the first of four speakers scheduled to lecture to us during the winter and spring.

JANUARY 29: We keenly felt Mr. Fortier's absence as he left Gould to fill a teaching vacancy at Bangor High School, but everyone looked forward to making the acquaintance of Mr. Cobb, his successor.

FEBRUARY 11-12: The gala winter carnival week-end included a basket-ball game (Why of course we won!) and the outdoor coronation followed by Open House at Holden Hall Friday evening. On Saturday the ski team defended their nearly perfect record with thrilling and victorious results and in the evening the carnival ball was successfully staged.

THE FOLLOWING WEEK: All collapsed and enjoyed a restful week of double assignments, extra quizzes, and general torture.

FEBRUARY 29: Happy proposal girls! Besides the novelties of Leap Year we were entertained by our second scheduled lecturer, Professor Mather of Harvard College.

ON MARCH 21: Dr. Rollo Brown, also of Harvard, and on May 9, Dr. Hauch of the U. of M. finished our program of lectures for the year.

As the school weeks shortened our memories of Gould lengthened to finish another and our last never-to-be-forgotten year at Gould Academy.

JANICE CRANE '44

Marian True Gehring Students' Home

Once again the time has come to take our annual flying journey through Gehring Hall to meet the Gehring-ites.

As we come in the front door we meet Mrs. Goggin who is a wonder to us all. As matron of the dorm she patiently listens to all our woes, offers advice, and soothes our often over-exuberant spirits. Thanks, Mrs. Goggin, for another wonderful year for all of us.

As we climb the stairs, and enter second hall, on our right are two fair-haired damsels. Dorris Kraus, more commonly known as "Dodo", is giggling delightedly over her extra-curricular matter, or some one of her own special predicaments, while her roommate, Jeannette Sargent is perched canary-like on her desk chuckling at "Dodo's" laughter.

Next door are Irene Olson and Dorothy West. Irene is dreamily strumming away on her guitar. Dottie is probably answering one of her numerous letters. She is the gal that gets the ten letters daily.

Down the corridor to the left are Barbara Wing and Elaine Vail. Barbara is rather quiet, and "Lady" isn't what you might call noisy, but we have occasionally heard proof of the fact that they can be quite hilarious.

On down the corridor, we find our cute secretary, Christine Hanson, and the Home Economics teacher Miss Gallagher. Miss Gallagher is the one who does everything from padding people for the plays to bandaging burned fingers.

In Room 18 are "Jij" Chaffee and Mava Jones. Step right up folks, and see "Jij" imitate Frank Sinatra. We sometimes think she does it better than he. Mava is trying desperately to finish that yellow sweater. I hope you get it finished, Mava.

Across the hall "Jan" Crane is proudly displaying one of her latest hat creations to a none-too-interested roommate in the person of Joanne Libby. "Jose" is rearranging her mammoth collection of pins, for not less than the hundredth time.

Next door are Eva Lawry and Bonnie Donnelly. The former, is munching on one of her illimitable potato chips, fiddling with the radio dial, writing a letter, and gazing out the window. At the same time she is bubbling over with laughter. How do you do it, Eva? Bonnie, if it is after a meal or after school, is almost literally glued to the window sill.

Across from them, Helen Wallingford and I abide. What the entire Girls' Dorm would do without Helen and her apples is something that we don't like to think about.

Next door are Lee Chiera and Laurel Clements. Lee, judging from the gales of laughter, is entertaining by reading passages from the work of the "Unknown Admirer". Laurel, too, is one of those lucky ones who gets so many letters. It is thanks to her too, that the dance band originated.

Joan Witham and Shirley Read room across the hall. "Jo" is certainly full of fun. Shirley is dutifully practicing, with an eye on the clock and an unfinished letter. Well, if we could play the violin the way she can, we would be willing to practice.

The next room down is that of "Peg" Cates and Anne Litchard. That's "Peg" practicing her routine for tonight's game. Gould is going to miss your twirling next year, "Peg". If you don't see "Litch", she is undoubtedly trying frantically to get her typing assignment from some unsuspecting classmate.

In Room 14 are Betty Burton and Ruth Marriner. "Burt", as you can see, is shining up her silver skis, and as head cheer-leader is devising some new contortions for her followers. Who is that eating? Why, Ruth Marriner, of course. And it's another one of those delicious cakes. Ruthie spends most of her time playing detective for the "Blue and Gold".

Down the corridor across from this room are Ruth Burns and Doris Givan. "Burnsie" is diligently looking for the pamphlet on Russia that no one has. Doris is pretty quiet, but she absorbs a lot and is now deeply engrossed in a book.

Next door are Miss Smith and Miss Newman. Miss Smith, of the alert ear, is happily writing a letter to one of her many friends and hasn't as yet seen us. Miss Newman is cheerfully whistling and studiously taking turns working on her shorthand and trying to figure out who that valentine was from.

In the last room on second hall are Ann Aldrich and Mary Lou Hamilton, the latter better known as "Ham". Buried beneath a heap of puzzles, Ann is madly knitting two, purling two. That's "Ham" just leaving with the sheaf of music in her hand. Many is the morning we have awakened to "Ham's" "Deep Purple". A soothing way to start the day. Thanks "Ham".

Now, if you're not too exhausted by this zoo-like gang, we'll struggle up to third hall where here on our left in the infirmary is Ruth Marie Malnati. We hear that Ruth Marie is considering selling tickets for her ring-side seats!

As we start down the hall, on our left is "Stan" Howard's and "Pam" Parson's room. For some inexplicable reason, "Stan" seems to be immeasurably fonder of Gould this year. "Pam" is over there working on her latest poster. Looks good to us, "Pam".

Marilyn Burrill has a gift of patience. It seems that Marilyn has tried her hand at being an author.

Their neighbors are Jean Chipman and Jean Murphy. "Murph" with her priceless sense of humor keeps us all laughing. "Chippy", too, has a faculty for getting into amazing situations and even more remarkably getting out of them.

In the next room are Priscilla Goggin and Mary Lou Bradley. "Cilla" has one of those contagious giggles, and Mary Lou's infectious laughter can be heard mingling with "Cilla's".

Across the hall are Beverley Perkins and Susan Linsley. "Bev" with her happy-go-lucky nature is the envy of many a girl for more than one reason. "Sukey" with the blonde hair, blue eyes, and wonderful disposition may look angelic, but we know that she is as mischievous as the next one.

The next ones in this case happen to be Betty Gibbs and Doris Mann. Although both Betty and "Dot" are little and cute their personalities more than make up for their size. "Dot" is turning out to be as good a skier as she is a cheerleader, though the skiing may be for a different purpose.

Across the hall are Mary Sue Adams and Alison Gregg. Now we know why Mary Sue works so hard on her music. Have we changed our minds about Tommy! I for one would like to know why the furniture is always moved at night.

In Room 6 are Barbro Freese and Patsy Duncan. Never let it be said that Barbro can't handle any situation that may arise. We know she can. Patsy is as full of fun as can be, and we love to hear her laugh. Both Patsy and Barbro are members of the "famous fourteen".

Across the hall we enter the abode of Virginia Griffin and Suzanne Delatour. "Dedi", as you can see, is very busy working on another of her sketches. That's Susie there posing for "Dedi". Susie seems to spend most of her spare time being her roommate's model But if she can inspire "Dedi" to make some of the sketches of Gehring-ites that she does, well, let her go to it.

Room 7 is inhabited by Marie White and Ann Terriberry. Marie's black curls can be seen bobbing up and down the corridors any time of the day or night. It is a wonderful thing to be as consistently cheerful as Marie is. "Terry" is another one of the skiing fans, who has certainly gone places at Gould. You have something to be proud of the way you can twirl that baton.

Down the corridor across the hall, are Barbara Galbraith and Joyce Chipman. Barbara's support in the band has certainly been appreciated. She's a great little drummer. Joyce can usually be seen running up and down the hall. She may be small, but there is certainly a lot to her.

Next are Barbara Corson and Joan Allen. "Bobbie" is another one of these people who can manage to look angelic, and yet isn't always. No indeed, "Bobbie" can be found right in the thick of things. Joan doesn't say much, but when she does, it is worth listening to. That is an idea in itself.

These two are lucky enough to have Miss Lundy for their next door neighbor. Thanks go to Miss Lundy for all the times she has chaperoned skating parties and the like.

Here in the enviable corner room, are Jeanne Marshall and Terri Ralph. Terri arrived at the mid-year, but she certainly has already proved herself to be another swell Gehring-ite. Jeanne can always be counted on to help anyone, and she is always ready to have a good time.

Janice Bowman is our official poet. We have discovered she has quite an ability for writing. Marion Brown and Frances Vinton are two more capable pianists.

Martha Waterhouse has shown us all that she can giggle with the best of us.

You have seen Gehring Hall—I won't say at its best, nor has it been at its worst. If you really want excitement and noise, stop in sometime before one of the dances.

NANCY ANN RICHMOND '44

Holden Hall

Another year has been added to the brief, but eventful history of the new Holden Hall. For us who have survived the trials and tribulations of this year it has been a happy one.

Many of our experiences we shall probably remember for years to come. When we look back at our days spent in Holden Hall, we shall probably remember the first few days in the fall when we met Mr. Scott, the new dorm master, who was to make such a success as football coach. He and his wife occupied "Suite A" on the lower floor, and it wasn't long before the pool sharks were to find that teachers could make a pretty good showing in the game, too, even if they did have to play against the freshmen to win.

Those first few days we also found that Mr. and Mrs. Clunie had moved into the little flat just off "Allen's Alley" and that we had a new nurse, Mrs. Waterhouse, holding sway over the infirmary, the least used wing of the building.

A new study hour plan was arranged after the first week whereby "early to bed" or late study hours were granted to all upperclassmen. This new system proved itself to be a very fine one, coupled with a continuation of last year's proctor plan.

Bill Moore, coming to us through the courtesy of Hebron, was the only occupant of the popular smoking room until after football season. He then found that he was not alone in his reverence for the Chesterfield. By that time, of course, we were well acquainted with everyone in the dorm. The freshmen had been singled out and put in their places (usually around the pool table), and we were even getting to know the difference between Jay and Sumner Winter, the two blonde cousins of the keyboard.

Of course, we shall remember the grand, undefeated football season to which our dorm contributed a large portion of the team. It was a lot noisier around here in the afternoon after that last exciting game with Mexico.

Then there was that fateful Thanksgiving week of the first snowstorm. It was a nice wet, heavy snow, too, for when we arose Tuesday morning the lights were out. A foot or two of snow covered our blankets as well as the ground and had evidently snapped the power and telephone lines. For four days we had little or no school. Evening sings around the supper tables and lamplight dances were in order. Our community loudspeaker, Martin Bovey ("Koon") was unable to play his victrola, and David Arnold ("Stump") almost gave up his doctrines of socialism for lack of Count Basie's inspiration. Strict rules were instituted about the use of candles, and every time one of the smokers managed to find his way through the hazards of "freshmen in the dark" to the "butt room" with a candle, Mr. Scott would soon retrieve it for better use in one of the upper hallways. One of the greatest hardships suffered during this blackout was that of Mr. Foster, who could not use his electric corn-popper for himself or for the boys he often treated. The select group of daily shavers in the dorm, led by ape-man Arnold Bennett, had to turn back to the old hand methods or go hairy. Jim Reid was probably the only one who kept studying throughout the eclipse by sheer light of his own brilliance.

When light again came to the world on Friday evening, we were just as glad that the vacation in darkness was over. There had been a fine Thanksgiving dinner despite handicaps, and there had been plenty of time for skiing, but it was good to get back to routine again—and to the Saturday night movies.

The next great event was Holden's annual dorm party for the girls on January eighth of the new year. In December Mr. "Joe" Roderick, the faculty advisor for this enterprise selected a committee of a representative from each of the three upper classes to manage the affair. Bob Tillson was the first to good-naturedly voice his approval of Joe's selection even before he had heard the names. Later he found that he was the senior member of the group, Bob Foster and Carl Wight, his committee.

Come the first weekend of the new term, the party went off with even greater success than that of the previous year. Shadow pictures of each guest were taken by Mr. Foster and the Camera Club gang and distributed later in the evening as a main feature of the party. Movies, hilarious card games, dancing in the ski room, a short entertainment by the boys, and plenty of refreshments topped off a happy evening for all concerned.

At about Carnival time the new chemistry teacher, Mr. Cobb, fought his way through a forest of skis and poles, fifty enthusiastic skiers boarding the truck for an afternoon's outing at Swan's Corner, and two feet of snow to seek his new quarters in the apartment next to the office. He was warmly welcomed among us as an interesting and friendly new influence in our dorm life.

During the Carnival Holden Hall played its part by holding open house for an hour after the crowning of the queen. Here the victorious basketball team and the ski team, destined to win the Western Maine Championship on the following day, had a chance to mingle with guests and spectators of the Carnival over cups of hot cocoa and stacks of sandwiches. As might be expected, the "musicians" of the dorm did their share, such as it was, to liven the party around the piano. Those who couldn't stand the heat of "Stump's" boogie-woogie, spent the remainder of the evening in the library by the roaring fire.

Occassionally throughout the year we have had dorm meetings in the game room on the making of new rules, the breaking of old ones, or the arrangements for such an event as the dorm party. At these meetings, and probably nowhere else, may we see the entire assembly of students, athletes, pool sharks, and unknown quantities of Holden Hall. Let's look around the room at some of these curious fellows.

Sitting on the bench in front of the fireplace is what is left of last year's illustrious "Sophomore Club", Roy Packard, "Red" Sanborn, and Joe Wellington. Roy was first string end this year, and he made a pretty good showing on the ski team, too. "Red" is one of those all-round fellows. He held up the other end of the team, appeared as the lead in a play in December, and has always managed to keep up fine marks. Joe is the mainstay of every tenor section in school. That little fellow sitting behind them in the fireplace is Tom Jacobs. You can depend on Tom to find the most outlandish place in the room to sit, and you can also depend on him for a half dozen touchdowns and a rack of ski trophies despite his size.

Those lads who have just relinquished the pool table as the meeting started are Wayne Allen and Adelbert Norwood. Wayne never plays unless he wins, and Adelbert doesn't care if he's beaten; they get along fine.

The quiet fellows in the far corner are Freeland Savage and John Marshall. We don't hear much from either of them in the dorm, but they get along pretty well in school. Beside them is Bill Melcher, the boy who likes to run around the Commando course with bare feet. We miss his brother Harry this year, but Bill is doing a lot for the home town prestige in the dorm.

Roger Gould, who holds up the "Satan" end of the "Wolf and Satan" combination, and David Hays, sometimes known as "The King of Corn", are perhaps the livest wires in the dormitory this year. Long shall we remember Roger's Gilbert and Sullivan records and Dave's vivid portrayal of Joseph in the Christmas cantata.

Earl Dorr and Bill Bowman are sitting over there, too. Earl was pretty quiet around here last year, but I guess he liked it because he brought Bill up from his home town this season. If guns were allowed in the dormitory, Bill would have an arsenal in his room, providing his roommate, Arnold Bennett, would stand for it. From the way he charges his weight around a football field, however, I presume Arnold could take care of himself.

Those fellows that just came in late are Francis Gilman, Jim Reid, and All Emery. Waiting on table takes up a lot of their extra time, but they still manage to get into a lot of activities. They're all old-timers around here and seniors. Francis, Al's roommate, has spent a lot of that extra time up on Christian hill this season besides his work on the football team and as president of the Outing Club. Jim is one of those all-round lads who gets wonderful marks, plays first team center, sings, and takes interest in dramatics. Al has been head of the proctor system in the dorm this year as well as captain of the football team.

"Stump" and Harley Dennett, the most affectionate roommates we have had this year, are murmuring sweet nothings to each other in the corner, and Carl Wight, who made quite a booming impression in the dorm last fall with his trombone, is next to them.

Bob Parsons, John Richmond, Russell Cram, and Willis Kimball, Holden's contribution to the freshman class, are all sitting together by the window. Willis, better known as "Trickle", is trying to borrow a pair of ski poles from one of the others. "Trickle's" pet hobby is trying to borrow something from somebody, and it has become quite a tradition.

Joe Murray and Kermit Allen are sitting together. They were roommates this year until Joe taught Kermit how to dress himself in the morning. Then Kermit got a single room in which to fend for himself.

Dick Woodcock, seated nearby, is quite a demon on the ski hill as well as with his clarinet. His roommate, big Bill Swasey, is a quiet and very likable chap.

Hollie Sturgis is another boy who makes life worth living in its dullest moments. His strange deep bass utterances coupled with Gordon Lawry's familiar cry of "Waah!" are well known to us all.

Speaking of deep bases, Dexter Stowell, who joined us after Christmas, does pretty well in the glee clubs himself. He's the tallest Holdenite since Clark Richmond.

Larry Littlehale, seated over on this side of the room, makes a pretty good post master for the school, and a good football manager, too. Andy Sargent and Bill Anderson are two more denizens of the lower hall. They, the genial Winter boys, and a few other transients have had the duty of keeping order among the freshmen down there this year.

And now we come to Alonzo Stevens. Al is everybody's friend, and his motto is: "The more the trouble, the more the fun." He and Ralph Stetson from across the hall run the only fruit shop on Allen's Alley. In the true community spirit they share everything that one can drag away from the other's room.

Blaine Ambler, sitting beside the game table, runs second only to Frank Sinatra in popularity at the girl's dorm. This can be understood when we look at that slick hair and examine his "smooth" personality. Besides, he's from Sanford.

"Chris" Robertson, Frank Bennet, and Bill Moore have arrived from the smoking room just on time for the conclusion of the meeting. These three juniors are very quiet—when they get out of breath. Frank and Bill are especially noted for the Republican Conventions regularly held in their room during study hour intermission each night.

We don't hear much from Dan Bennett, Arnold's brother, but he's sure to carry on the North-country traditions after Arnold graduates. May the Bennetts forever "infest" Holden Hall!

Oh, yes! We almost missed Phil Heathcote sitting under the pool table. Phil has been hanging P-38s on his walls for two years now. Let's hope he makes the Air Corps before the war is all over.

The meeting has now broken up, and the freshmen have again beaten the seniors to the pool table. The click of the whirling spheroids is dominant once more, and Holden Hall has resumed its busy life.

No one knows where we will all be next year, but wherever our seniors are distributed in the months after graduation, it is sure that they will remember each other and us, and even when these memories fade they may yet recall with reminiscence the staunch and handsom brick building in which at least one happy year of their youth was spent. To them Holden Hall will symbolize forty-seven friendly fellows of all sizes and types who were grand to live with.

Footlight Flashes

After the formation of the Dramatic Club last year a new custom was born which we hope will continue on as a highlight during many years at Gould. The three one act plays, therefore, were the first brilliant production afforded by the Dramatic Club this year. An all-girl cast in the light comedy, "Rehearsal", was followed by a serious drama called, "The Underdog". These were topped off by the fast-moving plot of "His Blue Serge Suit". It certainly produced great enjoyment not only for the audience but also for the many people on the stage and back stage whose hard work was awarded by this success.

In accordance with tradition the Senior members of the Dramatic Club gave their presentation in the early spring. The production was a comedy-farce in three acts entitled, "The Whole Town's Talking". The members of the well-chosen cast were Alonzo Stevens, Marcia Smith, Anne Litchard, Thomas Jacobs, Laurel Clements, Stanley Davis, Roger Gould, Nancy Ann Richmond, Dorris Kraus, Deborah Farwell, James Reid, and Betty Burton. In producing this play the Senior Class has proved its skill in the formation of an outstanding and professional show which will long be remembered.

Due to rehearsals for the plays, formal meetings of the Dramatic Club did not commence until spring. However, once underway and with Mr. Thompson's original ideas, they proved to be instructional as well as entertaining. Every member enjoyed taking part in sixty second skits advertising some product in "spot" radio work. Other meetings were made appealing by lessons in make-up techniques with the professional assistance of Mr. Roderick. These gave everyone an opportunity in really experimenting with make-up. The Dramatic Club has also made it possible for each member to test his own voice by making a record of it.

Through the untiring efforts and careful planning of its advisor, Mr. Thompson, the Dramatic Club of 1944 has been able to form the second strong and unforgetable link in the Dramatic Clubs of Gould Academy.

Home Economics

The Home Economics department has been unusually busy and enthusiastic in changing their programs to meet wartime requirements this year. Hindered by lack of necessary materials they have been unable to give their numerous social teas, but having learned to use their few ration points to the best advantage, they have continued their cooking on a smaller scale.

The freshman program of studies this year included grooming, general diets and nutrition. They now have alternate double periods of foods and clothing with the sophomores and all classes have been held in the cottage. Nutrition has been especially stressed because of food and proper diet problems that are caused in wartime. Because girls are increasingly taking over entire households, study of home care has become intensified.

The upper classes have been sewing extensively. Because clothes have become harder to get, they have made and renovated many cotton and woolen garments. For two weeks they mended clothes brought in by the score from outside pupils. They also made all necessary uniforms, play costumes, and various articles for the school clubs.

Under the capable leadership of Miss Gallagher, this course is steadily increasing its offers to the pupil and is recognized as one of the best equipped departments in school.

WILLIAM ROGERS CHAPMAN CLUB

Notes From the Music Department

There is much interest in music this year as shown by the number of students participating in the various musical organizations.

The William Rogers Chapman Club which provides opportunity for solo and small ensemble work is in its second year and has grown considerably. The officers are:

President	Carol Robertson
Secretary	Mary Lou Hamilton
Treasurer	Francis Berry
Program Committee	Priscilla Carver
	Stanley Davis

The other members are as follows:

Laurel Clements	Joan Allen
Priscilla Goggin	Francis Bean
Mava Jones	Roy Lurvey
Phyllis Tebbets	Richard Bryant
Gilbert LeClair	Robert Foster
Anne Aldrich	Betty Burton
Shirley Read	Anne Litchard
Marie White	Mary Gibbs

Outside of preparing weekly assembly programs many of the members have been active in entertaining for community gatherings this year.

In November the club gave an outstanding concert of vocal and instrumental numbers which delighted the audience with their talent and ability. The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Seldon Crafts from Bates College who spoke on how Dr. Chapman organized the music festivals in Maine. Mrs. Chapman very graciously spoke and presented to the club Dr. Chapman's Steinway Grand Piano.

The Club, being members of the Maine Federation of Music Clubs, were invited in January to attend the District Meeting of the Maine Federation of Music Clubs at Auburn. Ann Aldrich spoke on the organization and purpose of the Club. Laurel Clements, Priscilla Goggin, and Shirley Read presented a group of musical numbers.

The spring activities of the club consisted of a second concert of solo and ensemble numbers and a broadcast over station WCSH by members of the Club.

The band has about thirty members and has played at all the football and basketball games this year and has added a great deal of school spirit to the games. Laurel Clements has proved to be an efficient drum major and Ann Terriberry and Peggy Cates our drum majorettes have delighted everyone with their skilful handling of the baton.

The orchestra has provided music for the three one act plays, Minstrel Show, and the Senior play and have done exceptional work under the capable directing of Miss Griggs.

On Armistice Day the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs sang at the American Legion Armistice Day Program.

In December the Varsity Glee Club presented a dramatized cantata, "Petit Noel", at the West Parish Congregational Church. The Cantata was in traditional costume and the setting was the village of Bethlehem where the French villagers were visiting the nativity. The church was softly lighted by candles and was very effective throughout the cantata.

Soloists were:

Mary Gibbs	Ann Litchard
David Hayes	Jacqueline Autor
Stanley Davis	Priscilla Goggin
Carol Robertson	Thomas Jacobs

Robert Foster

In February the Boys Glee Club presented a minstrel show, "Georgia Jubilee", which was much enjoyed.

Interlocutor

Robert Foster

End Men

Stanley Davis	Joe Wellington
Holly Sturgis	Frank Bennett
Dexter Stowell	James Reid

Following the minstrel was a variety program of musical numbers and dancing by members of the Modern Dance Club.

About twenty-five students of Gould Academy have furnished music every Sunday for the services at the West Parish Congregational Church. This group is very faithful throughout the year and has added a great deal to the worship service. Again much credit is due Miss Griggs.

In the spring the combined musical organizations presented an excellent concert. The feature of the evening was a Pageant of Yesteryears, "Gay Ninety Revue", accompanied by the band.

We have enjoyed our musical activities this year and we hope the enthusiasm will grow in years to come.

The Industrial Arts Classes began the year with a normal enrollment; that is, two large classes, the freshman and sophomores, and the two upper classes somewhat smaller. However, the mortality rate of the freshman this year has been unusually high, as first one boy and then another has left school. The class started with eighteen, and has now dwindled to eleven.

The shortage of materials along certain lines such as hardware, electrical, and metal have curtailed certain types of projects, but as a whole, the variety of work performed compares favorably with the past years. The spring exhibit should be interesting and rank on a par with exhibits of the past.

In the sixteen years of Mr. Anderson's reign in the region below our assembly, never has a bed been constructed, but this year four boys are constructing beds. In the senior class, Richard Walker and Sherman Emery are building poster beds, while Francis Berry is making a child's bed. The other bed is being capably assembled by Donald Morrill (a junior). "Stan" Davis and Richard Bean are working on maple tables, while Arnold Bennett has made a metal lamp, and is now working on a drop-leaf coffee table of the colonial type. Ruel Swain has tackled a man-sized job in building a writing cabinet flanked by book shelves on either side. "Ken" MacInnis has completed a writing desk with plenty of drawer space and is to make a lamp to go with it. George Bryant is building a writing desk of a type which never has been built in the shop before. The boys mentioned above comprise the senior class in the shop this year. They have been studying Machine Drawing and Development for their outside work, and have weekly been completing drawings in these fields.

The junior class this year is somewhat smaller than usual, as there are only ten boys enrolled. The juniors are studying the types of pictorial drawing such as Oblique, Cabinet, Isometric, and Perspective. They also prepare drawings weekly and study machine woodworking. The class includes: Curtis, Gibson, Grover, Keenan, Kendall, Kneeland, Mason, Mills, Moore, and Morrill. Tables, chairs, gun cabinets, and writing desks are under construction in this group.

The largest class in the department is the sophomore group with seventeen. These boys are making smaller projects in bench woodwork, some projects in art metal, and wrought iron, and others in wood turning. The study of sharp tools, equipment and tool processes along with working drawings, comprises the meat of their outside studies. Members of the sophomore division are M. Bovey, W. Brooks, F. Curtis, E. Donahue, E. Dorion, C., Fitzgerald, F. Fuller, J. Greenleaf, W. Hastings, L. Kendall, G. Learned, L. Littlehale, S. Merrill, A. Sargeant, A. Smith, H. Sturgis, and G. Bowman.

The eleven freshmen who still carry on are D. Bennett, H. Blake, J. Brown, R. Chase, R. Gilbert, A. Fuller, H. Lyon, C. Melville, R. Parsons, L. Wheeler and F. Young. These boys are taking shop work for the first time and are studying wood and lumbering, learning to read and make working drawings, studying the common tools, how to use them, and simple joinery.

Commercial Notes

The students who spend part of their time on the third floor of Hanscom Hall, which is the Commercial Department, are being kept very active this year. A new plan has been put into operation, that of having two pupils assigned to each teacher to help with clerical work, especially typing and mimeographing. Several teachers have used these people a great deal and the students have benefited from the practice received.

During the past year there have been many opportunities of employment for the commercial students. Several received part-time jobs which will prove to be valuable experience for any future work in this field.

Added to the already long list of outside jobs, being brought to the department, is the task of preparing an "Order of Service" each Sunday for the church. Mr. Ireland has made a line drawing and this has been printed on the front. The Commercial Department mimeographs the "Order of Service" on the inside.

Last year's commercial graduates appear to be making progress. Rachel Gordon is attending Bryant & Stratton business school. Robert Greenleaf is using his business knowledge in the Army, and Ellen Peabody, now in the Waves, is keeping up with her clerical training also. Several others not full commercial students were offered positions, and many enjoy profitable employment.

The Commercial course offers any student a training which prepares him for immediate employment, and those who are not planning to go to college should investigate its possibilities.

Track

While the class basketball teams of 1943 were still competing for the championship, our thoughts were turned to the coming track season. Many of our best point-gatherers, as well as our coach had left the preceding year. Our hopes were not lowered, however, as we had several potential candidates to add to that already outstanding team of Hawkins, Bennett, Bryant, and Walker. The squad was also pleased to hear that "Joe" Roderick was to be our new coach.

Our first opposition was with Hebron Academy. The boys were out to win, because the year before Hebron managed to top our team by the narrow margin of two points. The results of this meet are as follows: Gould 57, Hebron 42.

Mile run: Won by Bryant (G); second, Walker (G), and third Bradford (H). Time: 4 minutes 55 seconds.

440-yard dash: Hawkins (G); Oakes (H); and Townsend (G). Time: 55.1 seconds.

Shot put: Racine (H); Bennett (G); and Angelosanti (H). Distance 36 ft. 11 in.

Pole Bault: Cates (H); Packard (G); Davis (H). Height, 8 ft. 8 in.

220-yd dash: Bradlee (G); Hawkins (G); French (H). Time 26.2 seconds.

Discus: Pidgeon (H); Angelosanti (H); Davis (H). Distance 98 ft. 3 in.

High jump: Tie for first between Bradlee and Packard (G) and for third between Lundin and Nickerson (H). Height 5 ft. 2 in.

100-yd. dash: French (H); Bradlee (G); Racine (H). Time, 11 seconds.

880-yard run: Rutter (G); Bryant (G); Woodworth (H). Time 2 min. 9 sec. (A new meet record).

Broad Jump: Bradlee (G); French (H); Townsend (G). Distance 19 ft. 3¾ in.

120-yd. low hurdles: Cates (H); Bradlee (G); Packard (G). Time: 16.6 seconds.

(THE HEBRON SUMMARY)

Bill Bradlee was high scorer, and gathered twenty-one points by taking three firsts, and two seconds. We were at a great disadvantage in the Wilton meet, as Bradlee was unable to compete. Bill Rutter had the honor of breaking the only record for the year, when he set a new mark for the 880 yard run, two minutes and nine seconds. The previous record was held by Rupert Grover at two minutes and fourteen seconds. Rutter was also unable to compete in the Wilton meet.

In our second meet with Wilton Academy the scores were tabulated as follows: Gould 46, Wilton 44.

Mile: First, Bryant (G); second, Walker (G); third, Nevens (G). Time: 4 min. 58.2 sec.

440-yd. dash: Hawkins (G); Bleadney (W); and Melcher (W). Time: 55.4 sec.

Shot put: Trask (W); Briggs (W); Bennett (G); Distance 38 ft.

220-yd. dash: Melcher (W); Hawkins (G); Peabody (G). Time: 25.5 sec.

Discus: Trask (W); Briggs (W); Bennett (G). Distance 114 ft. 11 in.

High Jump: Packard (G); Curtiss (W); Gilman (G). Height, 4 ft. 10 in.

100-yd. dash: Townsend (G); Melcher (W); Bleakney (W). Time 11.2 sec.

880-yd. dash: Walker (G); Knowells (W); Packard (G). Time: 2 min. 13.9 sec.

Broad Jump: Townsend (G); tie for second between Bleakney and Melcher (W). Distance 19 ft. 11 in.

120 Low hurdles: Briggs (W); Packard (G); Peabody (G). Time 17 sec.

(THE WILTON SUMMARY)

Our early lead was gradually overcome by Wilton, and we would have lost if Bob Townsend had not come through with two first places in the 100 yard dash and running broad jump.

This completed the season for an undefeated squad, and as we complete this article, we believe that the 1944 squad should be equally successful.

Football 1943

Perhaps this year's football team more than any other in the history of Gould Academy owes its success to the coaches. The fellows on the team would be the first ones to give unlimited credit to our two exceptional mentors. Coach Robert Scott, coming from Hebron Academy, developed a backfield unsurpassed in this part of the state in class B football. He commanded the respect and admiration of every boy on the team because of his driving manner of making every boy want to play football, love football, and win.

Mr. Roderick's line, averaging about 155, was hard hitting, hard blocking, and filled with the will to conquer by his incessant cries of "the guy who hits hardest is the guy who wins." No one ever questioned "Joe". Everyone knew he was a good football coach.

To these two men, and to the fine crowd who filled the bleachers, the team wants to express their thanks for a perfect season and one of the best times in their lives. Every fellow who left the field after the smashing victory over the Mexico "Pintos" regretted that the football season was over.

This year's squad, with one exception, depended entirely on team work. This "lone wolf" was Stanley "Inge" Merrill. He had but one thought: "give me that ball and let me run, but don't let the interference trip me up." Depending entirely on his speed and agility, "Inge" showed to Gould rooters what winged feet really are.

Tom Jacobs was without a doubt the trickiest and most deceptive player on the team. When Tom started with the ball behind a strong interference, he was bound for a long trip. In open field running "Tiny Tom" could outwit the best of them.

"Al" Emery, this year's captain, whose intelligent decision on penalties contributed greatly to the team's success, deserves great credit for his example of sportsmanship at practice and on the field each Saturday. Although "Spike" was the first one to question the referee's decision, he never displayed his disappointment in unsportsmanlike conduct. His passing was a tremendous asset to the team, accounting for many of the yards gained during the season.

"Hi" Berry, our quarterback, showed mental agility in many tight spots, calling the signals for many a scoring play. Also in the post of blocking back he left a number of opponents wondering who drove the truck onto the field.

The line worked as a unit. Every fellow knew his exact task and carried it out perfectly. Its blocking on the offense was excellent, and its ability to crack plays on the defense was remarkable. Jim Reid, playing center, excelled in both of these duties. He might be called the "dream center" since he was in on every play, at the bottom of every pile, and always came up with the loudest yell to "hit 'em harder". From end to end the line read as follows:

With the exception of the two ends, all these boys were seniors, and most of them will be in the army within a year, showing that the spirit they learned on the football field is the same spirit that will bring them back from war the victors.

On October second the team began its season with a smashing victory of 27-0 over Norway on Alumni Field. It was easy rolling all the way for the Huskies. Merrill scored three touchdowns, while Jacobs put over one. In the second half every boy out for football received a chance to play. This game didn't go to the fellows' heads because they knew that the hard games would come later.

Traveling to Fryeburg the next Saturday the boys again played a completely offensive game to trounce Fryeburg's weak eleven 34-6. Perhaps the best thing which could have happened to the team came at Fryeburg when Burnell, of the opposing team, intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards for Fryeburg's only score. This proved to the boys that if they were to come out undefeated they would have to work hard and not give the opposing teams any opportunities to score.

South Paris, who defeated Norway 33-7, met the Blue and Gold on Alumni field October ninth. Both teams were a bit on edge before the game, but after the first quarter there was very little doubt as to the outcome. In the first play after the kick-off Jacobs, on an off-tackle play, raced 55 yards for a touchdown. This play was the cause of Paris' loss, 26-6. The Cardinals equaled the home team, if not out-played it, during the second half after they had recovered from the shock of the first score. It was a question now as to how our team would do, how much fight it would have, when it was behind.

This question was not answered on October sixteenth in the next game with Norway. It was in this game that the second team made such a fine showing. Piloted by Joe Wellington it held the Norway eleven on even terms all through the first quarter. This proved that everybody, not just the first team, learned football this season. The game was a decisive victory for Gould, 25-0.

The most surprising game of the season was with Wilton Academy on October thirtieth. As the trampled Wilton eleven emerged from the avalanche of touchdowns, they were, without doubt, positive that this team, which defeated them 54-0, was more than deserving of the undefeated season it was to have.

In the last game of the season on November sixth the team showed that it had what it takes when the Huskies rose from a 6-6 tie at the end of the first half to an 18-6 victory over Mexico in the best game of the season. During the first two quarters the teams were locked in what seemed to be an unbreakable tie. However, in the second half Tom Jacobs, behind excellent blocking, put over two more touchdowns ending a perfect season. The final total scores were: Gould 184 points—Opponents 18 points.

Immediately after the Mexico game there was a huge victory bonfire behind the athletic field where there were cheers, speeches by Mr. Ireland and Mr. Clunie, and stories by Coaches Scott and Roderick. Gifts were presented to our coaches and to our captain by the team.

The team later enjoyed a fine steak banquet, thanks to the girls of the A. A. Council. Following the dinner the boys went to the Bethel Theater as guests of the school.

We hope Gould never forgets this undefeated season. We know the team won't.

BASEBALL TEAM

Baseball 1943

After the basketball season had been discontinued due to the gas situation, the baseball team carried out its schedule by using the bus, train, and automobile as a means of transportation.

With the exception of two players the team was made up entirely of undergraduates, giving good proof of some fine teams in the future. The battery started out with "Pete" Rosenberg and Captain "Bill" Wright, the only seniors, but due to Rosenberg's arm injury, "Ken" McInnis took over and improved steadily as the season progressed. "Stan" Merrill, a freshman, also filled in on the pitching assignments and showed great promise.

The infield started out with George Bryant at first, "Archie" Young at second, "Dick" Emmons at third and "Hi" Berry at short, but a new and better combination found Berry at his old position at third and "Tom" Jacobs, a neat little player at short.

The outfield had an abundance of young players, but lost a good fielder for the season when "Jim" Reid had a skiing accident. "Al" Emery covered left field throughout the year with a high fielding average along with Merrill in center field and "Eddy" Dorion in right field. Other fielders were "Red" Sanborn, "Phil" Heathcote, and "Joe" Wellington.

The opening game brought a very strong Berlin club to Bethel to beat Gould 10 to 2. The game was played under poor weather conditions with Berlin capitalizing on our errors. Outstanding in the game was Bryant who collected 2 hits in 4 trips to the plate.

The second game was also with Berlin and again Gould went down in defeat. This time to a tune of 11 to 0 with Berlin as before capitalizing on our errors, while their pitcher Keough, proved himself the master of the situation by allowing only three hits, two of which were obtained by "Al" Emery.

Rumford came to Bethel for the next encounter. We had a 4 to 2 lead for four innings, but the errors again led to Rumford scoring 8 runs in the fourth and sixth innings to clinch the game 11 to 4. Rosenberg and Young collected 4 of the 6 hits for Gould.

The team journeyed to Rumford for the return game only to lose 12 to 11 in a "razzle dazzle slugfest". Among the sluggers for Gould, Dorion and Merrill, both freshmen, pounded out homers, along with Bryant, who led the team offensively collecting 5 hits for as many trips to the plate, followed by "Al" Emery with 3 out of 4.

Gould hit the win column when Mexico came to Bethel by winning 10 to 5. The team played almost perfect defensive ball and collected 15 hits led by Berry and Emery, each scoring 4 hits in as many trips to the plate.

The team traveled to Mexico for the return encounter to win 5 to 3, behind the excellent 4 hit pitching of Merrill and McInnis.

The last two games, played with Gorham, ended with Gould taking one and losing the other. At Gorham Gould lost 11 to 3 Merrill was by far the outstanding player for Gould, collecting two of the teams 3 hits, one of which was a long home run. At Bethel, Gould banged out 15 hits to win 15 to 8.

For the year "Al" Emery finished with a .444 batting average and 1,000 for a perfect fielding average followed by Bryant with a .438 batting average and also a perfect fielding average.

With a complete veteran infield, outfield and pitching staff, under the capable eye of Coach Myers, who has worked hard to develop some fine teams, the prospects for the coming year look very good.

To date the 1944 schedule has not been completed, but games with Berlin, Rumford, Gorham, N. H., and Oxford County teams are anticipated.

Winter Sports

On Thanksgiving Day morning the first truck load of skiers, for this school year, roared off to Swan's Corner in an effort to acquire the necessary appetite used in consuming our traditional turkey. Before the Christmas recess, Mr. Myers and Miss Newman made it possible for several more truck loads of "snow bunnies" to get to the better slopes surrounding Bethel.

After Christmas vacation skiing took on a more prominent note. Ski classes were organized and the ski team began its regular practice. Mr. Myers, besides being ski team coach, worked with the ski classes where he was ably assisted by Miss Newman and Miss Lundy. Fifty-six ardent lovers of the slender maples turned out for these instructional classes.

Those who went out for the ski team were Captain Tom Jacobs, Jim Reid, Gilbert LeClair, Ruel Swain, Eddie Dorion, Freeland Savage, Jay Winter, Roy Packard, Dick Woodcock, Bill Moore, and Martin Bovey. Francis Gilman who had previous experience as an assistant manager to the ski team was our efficient manager. Phil Heathcote was the poor unfortunate assistant, upon whom the wrath and burden of waxing was cast by the ski team as well as Francis. Phil, Francis, Mr. Myers, and "Al" Emery, a star on the basketball floor, did a grand job in helping the ski team on to its success.

Without a doubt Capt. Jacobs was the best skiier that participated in any interscholastic meet in Western Maine. Of course, he was backed by a strong team. Swain, LeClair, and Reid were all three beginners under Mr. Chivers in 1941 and were generally up there pressing their captain for top honors. Swain was strongest in cross-country and jumping respectively, and was one of Gould's mainstays with his steady work as a four event man. Gil LeClair skiied in three events usually, but in these he was always a constant threat to the winner. Slalom, downhill, and jumping were his meat.

SKI TEAM

Perhaps the surprise of the year was the rapidly improving skiing throughout the year by Eddie Dorion. He turned in as fine a performance of skiing as any experienced high school skiier could desire.

Roy Packard was our complement in running cross-country and showed considerable stamina doing it. Jay Winter competed in slalom for Gould twice and showed that his constant drilling and "intestinal fortitude" were not futile. "Koon" Bovey, who was "under the weather" for the first part of the season, displayed a coming form and competed for Gould in its winter carnival. Although Savage did not ever officially compete for Gould, he helped much in pre-running new cross-country courses and bringing back the "dope". Dick Woodcock was forced to retire from active skiing when he was added to the casualty list incurred by skiing.

Our first meet of the year was held on January 22, 1944, at Norway. Represented in the quadrangular meet were Edward Little, Lewiston, Norway, and Gould. Due to the lack of jumping facilities, competition was confined in downhill, slalom, and cross-country.

Gould captured first place for team scoring and thus won the meet against the "Eddies" from Auburn. Jacobs and LeClair took first and second in that order in the slalom. Reid and Jacobs then took first and second respectively in the downhill. In the cross-country Dwelley of Edward Little ran off with first place, but he was followed closely by Swain who thus anchored second place. The next man for Gould was Reid who just nosed out Dorion for 4th place. "Jake" who probably was destined to be high scorer of the meet met hard luck when he got off the trail. The results:

Gould	287.2
Edward Little	274.5
Norway	261.5
Lewiston	193.5

On January 29, 1944, Gould traveled down To Auburn for Edward Little's Winter Carnival. This was a five-way meet having contestants from Lewiston, Norway, Andover, Edward Little, and Gould entered. Slalom, downhill, jumping, cross-country, and a combined on the last two were tabulated with Gould coming out a close second to Edward Little. Jacobs was superb throughout the whole, getting three firsts and two seconds.

Gould lacked its punch and as a whole gave a rather erratic showing until the cross-country in which it finally gathered its wits and came through as expected. But it was too late and thus you have the conclusion in a nutshell.

However it was a good meet and everyone was overjoyed with the presence of Lt. (j.g.) Howard Chivers. He helped the boys by telling of their faults so that they had a good plan of what they should practice on for their own carnival. The results of the meet:

Edward Little	466.9
Gould	456.5
Norway	363.2
Andover	338.9
Lewiston	287.4

On February 12, 1944, after a lapse of two weeks, Gould had its own winter Carnival. To start the week-end, the basketball team put South Paris down in defeat by a score of 27-15. Immediately following, Gould got its first glimpse of its Carnival Queen. Attractive Barbara Coolidge, whose popularity is tops, was their choice. After wishing the ski team luck, she invited all to partake of a little nourishment in the basement of Holden Hall before "hitting the sheets". On Saturday evening she also started the Carnival Ball and during intermission handed out much coveted first three place prizes for each event.

On February 12, 1944, Edward Little, Andover, and Norway came to Gould's carnival. The first event of the day was the downhill and the team netted themselves the first four places and thus got off to a good start by amassing a perfect 100 points. Jacobs was first, and the next three places were Reid, Dorion, and LeClair. However the cross-country was better contested with Swain, Dorion, Reid, and Jacobs placing third, fourth, fifth, and seventh.

Nevertheless Gould's team score was still first. The afternoon was spent out at Swan's Corner in running off the slalom and downhill. Jacobs zoomed through the deceiving slalom course to carry off top honors in the event with Reid coming in second. Once again Gould bested the other schools for team scoring. In jumping the team duplicated its previous performance of winning. Although Reid outdistanced Jacobs, he had to be content with second place. Tom's form gave him an undisputed first. As this meet was also the Western Maine Championship, Gould captured that crown as well at its own carnival.

The results:

Gould	388.50
Edward Little	370.18
Andover	337.47
Norway	306.82

March 11, 1944, proved to be the team's gala day. On this memorable day Gould was host to Lyndon Institute, the state champions of Vermont, and defeated them. The Vermonters brought along a state champ in each event. But Jacobs ran off with firsts in downhill, slalom, and jumping, and the cross-country was won by Reid. Reid also got a second in downhill, jumping, and was nosed out of second place by a Lyndon man in the slalom and thus gained a third. This meet was the last interscholastic meet for Capt. Jacobs, Swain, LeClair, and Reid, and it was an all out effort on their part for which they were justly rewarded. The results:

Gould	394.48
Lyndon	354.65

The following skiiers earned their varsity letters: Jacobs, LeClair, Swain, Reid, Dorion, Packard, and Gilman (manager). Of these, only Dorion and Packard will return as lettermen, but they will be assisted by Winter, Savage, and Bovey.

Basketball

12 VICTORIES 1 DEFEAT

Because of last year's inactivitv in interscholastic competition, Coach Anderson had to start from "scratch" to make a smooth-working basketball team from a group of players inexperienced in varsity basketball with the lone exception of "Hiram" Berry. Berry, the center, was the key man in the Husky offense and many of the plays were built around him. Forwards Bryant and McInnis provided, with Berry, a scoring punch that, with each succeeding game, grew in power. With Emery, Bennett, and Young doing fine jobs as guards, the team developed a man-to-man defense that bewildered many opponents.

The first game of the season was with Rumford. Gould won 26-25, but not before it had fought to come from behind. Then followed an easy 41-14 victory over Fryeburg Academy and after this the only loss of the entire season, a return game with Rumford, a Class "A" team.

After the Rumford game the boys began a winning streak that extended to the end of the season and clinched the Class "B" championship of Oxford County for the "Blue and Gold".

This winning streak of 10 straight games is perhaps the longest consecutive winning streak turned in by a Gould team.

Graduation will take a heavy toll of our basketball team with Archie Young the only letterman left. Allen and Lawry, who have played frequently in varsity games this year, will provide good material for next year's team.

This year's record:

Gould	26	Rumford	25

BASKETBALL REVIEW

Coach Anderson, completing his sixteenth year as coach of Gould basketball, has compiled the records of his teams hoping they may be of interest to the student body and alumni. A glance at the review shows that we have had many excellent teams to balance the few poor years such as must be expected in all athletics. However the "Blue and Gold" have won numerous championships and attended a number of Class "B" tournaments, as well as the Class "A" tournament in 1930 held at Bates College.

The Blue and Gold

The aim of the BLUE AND GOLD this year has been to carry on the work started last year, and continue to furnish the school with a complete coverage of the news, as well as a few peppy columns. There has been an attempt to get away from informal journalism, without losing the personal touch so popular among high school students. The three columns devoted to the two dorms and the town were continued, and a new one added in which thumb-nail sketches of two outstanding members of the senior class were given in each issue.

The first eagerly awaited paper was distributed October thirteenth, and from then on a fairly regular schedule was adhered to, with ten regular publications planned for the year. As we go to press big plans are brewing for a commencement issue to surpass them all.

The BLUE AND GOLD went ahead this year under the editorship of Anne Aldrich with the always-ready support and assistance of Bob Foster, the associate editor. Mr. Thompson, the faculty adviser, is to be commended for his understanding and help—always ready with suggestions, but never overbearing with censorship.

Opportunity was given not only for those who wanted experience in journalism-reporting, writing and so on, but also for those interested in the business end of a paper. The town was scoured by an enthusiastic business staff, and it was only through the support of the advertisers and the readers that the BLUE AND GOLD was able to accomplish what it has during the year.

GIRLS' A. A. COUNCIL

Girls' Physical Education

Girls sports started this fall with much enthusiasm. The activities included were hockey, tennis, archery and hiking. In class competition the seniors won both hockey and archery.

The winter sports are basketball, skiing and badminton. Two class teams were chosen for each class in basketball and a tournament was played off for each class. The senior second team won their tournament; as yet there is no outcome to the first team contest as two rounds are to be played. We hope to have a chance to play in the Field House again this year.

The five classes in skiing are ever progressing under the able supervision of Miss Newman, Miss Lundy and Mr. Myers. The school has had the use of a truck this year, and so frequent trips have been made to the slope at Swan's Corner. In badminton a tournament is being run in all classes, and the winners in each class will play off for a final championship.

In the spring volleyball, softball and tennis are in order. Also the girls gym exhibition, which is planned to give a summary of the work we do in class during the year, is put on. This, too, is competitive.

In gym classes our regular work includes gymnastics, apparatus and modern dancing, plus the well-known correctives classes led by Miss Newman.

The Girls' Athletic Council, composed of sports managers, class representatives and officers has sponsored this year a Children's Party and a Skating Party which were much enjoyed. It is the work of the council to keep sports enthusiasm aroused and to solve any problems that may arise in the field of girls sports. The council plans to purchase a plaque for the gym which will bear the names of the class each year that comes out on top in the interscholastic sports. This gives us all something to look forward to.

Boys' Physical Education

Since its dedication in October, 1941, the Farnsworth House has proved to be the center of physical education for the young men of Gould Academy. This year the cheerful instructor, "Joe" Roderick, has once more worked out a program designed either to make or break his charges.

The underclassmen have a regular gym period every other day, while on the alternate days "Joe" takes the boys individually and builds up their posture defects and similar weaknesses so that he can later subject them all to the regular class-a-day training which the juniors and seniors receive.

Evidently "Joe" means well, for he claims that the training these older boys will get in the armed services is much more severe than that which he administers to them. The commando course in the fall and again in the spring furnishes a taste of the types of work they will practice in the service. In fact, most of the drills are designed to duplicate to some extent those that the army uses. For example, the grass drill is used to teach instantaneous reaction to commands that shell fire would necessitate. Also, zigzagging at the sound of a whistle drills in the broken field running that the infantry uses to advance on a fortified position.

Periodically the boys get some "contact" work such as boxing and wrestling. These sports are introduced to make the shy and diminutive type aggressive.

A new feature that has been added this year is tap-dancing, which was ordained to school the blundering feet in the fine art of co-ordination.

Since the field house is well equipped medically, there's apparently no reason to place a limit on the scope of the gym classes. Therefore, the shivering wretches are required to spin crazily on the horizontal bar ten feet from the floor in order to learn "where they are when they're upside down", as the grinning instructor gleefully puts it.

The surprising thing about the calisthenics that take up a large part of the course is that they really do build up the physical stamina of the very boys who feel that these gruelling "workouts" are sapping them of whatever physical prowess they ever had. This is proved when the monthly strength tests are taken, for almost invariably improvement over the preceding month is shown.

Perhaps a tribute should be paid to these young men in view of the fact that in the fall they did a great deal to set up the basketball floor in the roomy cage, and they often devoted their class periods to shoveling snow during the winter months.

The culmination of the year's activities in physical education is the Boys' Gym Exhibition, which is put on to entertain the public and to give a glimpse of what goes on inside the walls of the Farnsworth House. Last spring each class demonstrated a phase of the work taken through the year, such as ranger exercises, coordination exercises, grass drill, marching, and others of their daily chores. Individual entertainers and groups performed by dancing, tumbling, and forming statuary poses. Mr. Roderick is shaping plans for an even better exhibition this year.

Gould Academy Camera Club

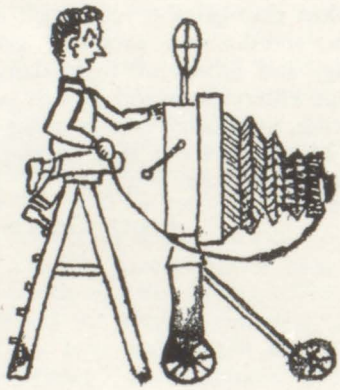
Under the capable guidance of Mr. Gayle Foster the Camera Club has progressed beautifully this year and more is yet to come.

The forty members elected the two experienced camera-clickers, Robert Foster and Martin Bovey as President and Vice-President respectively, while Dorris Mann and Laurel Clements handle the treasury and secretarial affairs.

With Friday as the meeting day of the week, a varied program has been followed. Instruction has been carried on covering the fields of both interest and education.

After discussions on composition, types of cameras, films, developing agents, parts of cameras, photographic magazines, etc., a contest was held to determine the most informed on these subjects. Useful prizes pertaining to photography were awarded to the lucky winners.

Wartime restrictions have had to be coped with in the matters of film, rubber cement, and such scarce articles. For the benefit of his fellow camera fans, each member was constantly on the look-out for all stray equipment, and by a process of pooling the situation was met.



With February came darkroom instruction. In order to accommodate all, the club was divided into three groups which met during various activity periods in the darkroom of Holden Hall.

Throughout the process of portrait-taking many odd characters appeared on the tell-tale film much to the victims' modest embarrassment.

Here the members learned from actual experience the handling of photographic equipment. The chance to enlarge a favorite picture was had, and then mounting the master-piece after it had been color-toned to perfection.

To keep the darkrooms of Hanscom Hall as well as Holden in order a committee consisting of Alonzo Stevens, Robert Parsons, Philips Heathcote and Holly Sturgis was organized.

The Camera Club has not only benefited itself this year. Through the members' efforts the Academy has access to pictures of many school events. The tireless work of Mr. Foster, aided by the officers, the darkroom committee, and interested students, has brought forth print after print of school activities which will be looked back upon in fond memoriam.

As we go to press, the club is laying plans to equal if not surpass their Commencement Exhibition of last year with new and interesting prints by the members. This show will come as a fitting display of knowledge learned and experience gained through another successful Camera Club year.

Science Club Notes

May first, 1943 was a memorable day for the Gould Academy Science Club. It sponsored here at Gould the Science Fair and Congress. Contestants from nearby schools came to Gould to give talks and demonstrations, and to enter exhibits on Science. In addition to the ten participants from Gould, there were four other talks by students from Norway High School, Buckfield High School, and Oxford High School. These were presented in morning and afternoon sessions between which lunch was served at the dormitory. The judges, Mr. Vincent McKusick, Mr. Arnold Stevens, and Mr. Wright, of Bates College, chose six of the talks to be presented once more in the finals, held in the evening. Those chosen were Robert Roy of Buckfield, Jacqueline Autor of Gould, Lincoln Colby of Gould, Herbertina Norton of Gould, Louisa Bacon of Gould, and Donald Morrill, Lillian Coburn, and Richard Bryant, all of Gould. While the judges for the evening session, Dr. William Sawyer from the faculty of Bates College, Dr. Henry W. Aplington from the faculty of Colby College, and Supt. Linden Christie from Cornish, Maine were comparing notes, Supt. Clair Wood of Waterville gave an interesting talk. Then Mr. Ireland announced that Herbertina Norton of Gould with her talk and demonstration on soil testing, and Robert Roy of Buckfield with his fine mineral collection had won the scholarships offered by Bates and Colby Colleges. Lincoln Colby with his chemical analysis by color was first alternate, and Louisa Bacon was second alternate. The other four who were in the finals were presented with valuable books. The prize winning exhibits were the carved biological specimens of Thurl Allen from Brunswick High School. Constance Sawyer's remote control thermometer got second prize and the model of the magnesium plant by Francis Gilman and James Reid was third. Everyone who participated received a certificate.

All those who had anything to do with making the Fair the success that it was, especially the Science Club and Mr. Fortier, deserve high praise.

Plans for another Science Fair this year are under way and several schools have sent word of their desire to enter. The members of the Science Club are working on projects which ought to make interesting subjects for the Fair.

The president of the club is Priscilla Carver; the vice president is Richard Bryant; Doris Givan keeps the minutes of the meetings, and Dick Woodcock takes care of the money matters. We meet on every other Monday at Activity Period. At each meeting one of the members gives a short program. No doubt you have noticed the attractive displays in the window of the lecture room. We plan and arrange these.

During the year the club lost its sponsor, Mr. Fortier, who has accepted a position in Bangor High School. It was he who helped to organize the club and to make it what it is today. However, the saying goes that with every loss there is a gain, and Mr. Cobb has come to us, willing and eager to continue the progress of the club.

We hope that greater interest will be shown in science in Gould in the future than has been seen this year. After all, it is in high school science laboratories that some of the greatest improvements in our civilization may yet be discovered.
